Does Carmel want an art musuem?

At present, his organization maintains an art gallery which is open to the public, free of charge. Ultimate aim of the AFA is to establish a permanent art museum and, already, Mr. Heller says, works of art worth $10,000 have been donated for this purpose.

The gallery presents traveling exhibitions as well as work of local artists. This necessitates fireproof premises or the cost of insuring valuable shows would be prohibitive.

Rent, alone, of present premises on Lincoln Street is $275 a month. Added to this are insurance, operation and personnel costs.

But the premises are too small to permit the holding of the special art workshops which the AFA sponsors. So Mr. Heller asked if he might be given space, at no cost, in the city's Sunset cultural center.

The Sunset Commission thought his request was valid and granted the AFA the use of the former school cafeteria and kitchen.

A condition of the Sunset Commission's recommendation was that the cafeteria must always be made available in the evenings, when requested, for meetings of community organizations. There were no requests for paid occupancy of the space which the commission wished to allocate to the AFA.

No area of the Sunset center is adequately fireproof to permit moving the gallery to the city-owned cultural facility. If this were possible, the AFA could pay rent for Sunset quarters instead of maintaining the Lincoln Street premises.

As it is, costs of maintaining the Lincoln Street operation prohibit paying rent for Sunset workshop space, Mr. Heller states.

He maintains the AFA benefits the community by bringing here outstanding works of art which would not otherwise be seen on the Peninsula. The quality of the exhibitions has been established by the AFA being permitted to join the Western Association of Art Museums and the American Associaton of Art Museums. Membership in these organizations was granted following careful inspec-

The abundance of the land, the skill of homemakers and craftsmen, the livestock of ranches, the beauty of gardens, the art of painters, sculptors and children are all displayed at the Monterey County Fair and National Horse Show which opened yesterday at the fairgrounds in Monterey. There is a great variety of entertainment, too.

The fair will remain open until 10 p.m. this evening. Tomorrow through Saturday gates at the fairgrounds will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday gates will open at the same time but close at 9 p.m.

Yesterday was Europe and Monterey Peninsula Day. Today is Orient, Salinas and Kids Day (children up to 16 years old are admitted free). Tomorrow will be Pacific Islands and Southern County Day. Saturday is Latin America and Northern County Day. Sunday is Africa and North America Day. The theme this year "Around the World in Five Fair Days" is carried out in decorations and a huge balloon depicts the idea of the theme taken from the Jules Verne book.

Free entertainment on the open air stage along the midway, with its green grass and spreading oaks, has numerous variety acts with an international background . . . some planned particularly for children, including a Punch and Judy show. Peninsula service clubs are among organizations manning

'Sign Up To Save Sunset'

Petitions asking the city council to hold off final negotiations with any non-profit corporation seeking a long term lease of the city-owned Sunset cultural and community center are being circulated throughout Carmel under the auspices of the Klenke Committee.

One table, on Ocean Avenue in front of Crocker-Citizens Bank, displays a sign saying "Sign Up To Save Sunset" and presents Klenke Committee petitions.

Purpose of the petitions is to have a public forum and a special election in order to obtain reactions of citizens to proposals such as that presented by Arts Inc. which is now being considered by the Sunset Commission. A tentative lease between the city and the non-profit group which plans to build a $5.5 million cultural center on the Peninsula and, at present, seeks to find out if Carmel is the most favorable location, is in the hands of City Attorney William Burleigh. He is conducting negotiations with Arts Inc., members. All negotiations will be reported to the Sunset Commission, appointed by Mayor Herbert Blanks to operate the Sunset Center under the control of the city council.

Considerations and recommendations on the lease will be reported by the commission to the council which has the power to approve or disapprove any Sunset Commission action. (Details of the lease are in a story on Page Two.)

Klenke Committee petitions are addressed to the city council and read as follows:

"We the undersigned voters and taxpayers do hereby petition the city council of Carmel-by-the-Sea to hold off final negotiations with any non-profit corporation seeking a long term lease on the Sunset property until such time as a public forum and a special election can be held to get a clear cut vote on this controversial issue."

On August 18, a group of a dozen or so persons gathered at the home of Mrs. Jeanie Morgan Klenke and decided to circulate the above petitions. Any person wishing to circulate a petition may obtain one at the Carmel Yarn and Talent Shop, owned by Mrs. Barbara Norberg, chairman of the Carmel Arts Commission and wife of Councilman Gunnar Norberg.

They say there are antibiotics
For ev'ry ill under the sun;
And though pretty much of a shock it's Robbed sickness of most of its fun.

There's folk who are always complaining,
Imagining pains old and new.
If sunny, they wish it were raining:
Contentment is always taboo.

There still remains hope for neurotics
And the hypochondriacs, too—
There are ways to beat antibiotics
And do-gooders' hullabaloo.

There are allergies, science discovers,
That antibiotics can't fade;
And if you're allergic to others
They think up—then we've got it made!

Sunset Commissioners Disagree In Attempt To Set Cultural Center Uses

"I would not like to see this be the first step towards making Carmel a convention city," Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.) told other members of the Sunset Commission Monday night when discussion centered on Carmel meetings of physicians from the Western states. Already approved is the use of Sunset auditorium for lectures during the annual doctors' convention here.

Admiral Fisher added that he did not think such use of the Sunset facilities was suitable under terms of the bond issue approved by the voters.

"We have got to choose, censor, define what citizens voted for," he stressed.

The bond issue and ballot statements said that the former elementary site would be purchased from the Carmel Unified School District for use as a municipal cultural and community center.

On July 12, Admiral Fisher presented a report to the Sunset

Bloodmobile To Be Here Next Thursday

Edgar Bissantz, acting chairman of the Red Cross blood program, today announced that the organization's Bloodmobile will be at the Carmel chapter house, Eighth and Dolores, on September 2 between 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Anyone between the ages of 21 and 59, inclusive, who is in good health, is eligible to contribute blood. Minors from 18 to 20 may also give blood provided an authorization slip is signed by a parent or guardian. These slips are available now at the chapter house.

Sunset Commissioners Express Dissatisfaction With Arts Inc. Tentative Cultural Center Plans

Although members of Arts Inc., the non-profit group negotiating with the city to develop a $5.5 million cultural center on the Sunset School site, did not come, as expected, to the Monday night meeting of the Sunset Commission considerable discussion took place on the organization's tentative proposals, particularly a lease, site plan and feasibility study.

Absence of any Arts Inc. representative was due to the fact that nothing new had developed in negotiations between the city and the non-profit group on a proposed $1 for 50 years lease, City Attorney William Burleigh ascertained by a telephone call during the evening.

Discussion revealed that some Sunset commissioners were not happy with the tentative site development plan, prepared by Will Shaw, architect and member of Arts Inc. This plan showed an art museum, 1,200-seat theatre, 1,500-seat concert hall and an underground parking facility, as well as surface parking, for 600 cars.

This development, under the proposed lease, would be undertaken, at no cost to taxpayers, by Arts Inc. and eventually turned over to the city. Conditions of the lease are that a feasibility study will be made, also construction funds raised, by Arts Inc.; the city will pass an ordinance requiring off-street parking for all new business development, or payment of an "in lieu" tax for parking at the proposed Sunset facility.

Arts Inc. members have stated that paid parking is an absolute necessity for operation of their cultural center, also that Carmel offers the greatest potential source of paid parking although other Peninsula sites are being considered.

Monday night, Commissioner Jean van Loben Sels questioned the advisability of Arts. Inc. making the feasibility study.

"I would feel much better if the city did the study," she said and added that she had talked with Martin Dibner, executive director of the California Arts Commission, and discovered that financial aid from the state might be available to the city for the study.

"We would have more independence . . . be better able to study any offer . . . if we do it on our own," she declared.

Consideration of Mrs. van Loben Sels' proposal resulted in the commission leaving the city attorney free to make further negotiations with Arts Inc. under present conditions.

Commissioner Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.) stated he was not happy with the buildings in the Arts Inc. site development plan. He said that "a big and a little" auditorium were needed in any future cultural center development, not two of almost equal size as shown by Arts Inc. He also favored more park and recreational uses of the two-block property.

Any development of the Sunset site will have "an important effect on a couple of generations," he stated. To commit the property on one sketch "was not wise," Admiral Fisher contended. "What are we going to get after 50 years?" he queried.

He proposed that each Sunset Commissioner revise, according to needs each considered suitable, plans for development of the Sunset site, as he had done.

Commissioner James Pruitt stated that many plans could be developed for any site, even a cultural center. He thought it would be wrong not to leave development proposals up to any nonprofit group proposing Sunset center development, especially when the group was proposing to raise construction funds. He added that the city retained the right to accept any development.

Mrs. van Loben Sels maintained "Arts Inc. needs as much help as we do. We should say what we want before instead of tearing apart any tentative site plan offered."

She suggested that all Sunset commissioners obtain copies of the Sunset site, consult all cultural organizations that have indicated interest in locating in the municipal center in order to find out what development would be satisfactory to them.

Barefooted Visitors Urged To Enter Our Sand Castle Contest

The September issue of Ford Times has an illustrated article entitled "Carmel's Great Sand Castle Contest." Mona Patrick of Carmel Valley wrote the story and her husband, Owen, took the photographs.

Mrs. Patrick urges readers thusly, "If you're on the central California coast this September, why not join the fun? Bring your family, your shovel and your imagination, and leave your problems behind—along with your shoes and stockings.

These visitors may have a long barefooted wait when they arrive. Carmel's sand castle contest depends on the vagaries of Pacific tides and members of an informal group called the Society for the Promotion of Fun in Carmel (S.P.O.F.I.C.).

Don Brown, a S.P.O.F.I.C. moving spirit, says intentions are to have the annual sand castle contest next month, but maybe not. So great has been the growth of the event that it is hoped this year to limit entrants to residents of the Carmel area. "Otherwise it may get out of hand," he emphasizes.

With the nationwide publicity the contest will have in Ford Times, perhaps it will be better to wait until October, Don muses.

It was December last year before S.P.O.F.I.C. got around to Carmel's Great Sand Castle Contest.

Carmel Boy Most Valuable Pitcher

Three local youths were among the players honored at the second annual Monterey Babe Ruth League banquet in Monterey on Sunday evening. The event followed the play-off between the top National and American league teams, with the National taking the series.

A permanent trophy was awarded to Randy Newman of Carmel, named most valuable pitcher for the National League. Steve Hall, Carmel Valley, received an award for highest batting average and Mel Miyamoto, also of Carmel Valley, was presented a trophy as the most popular player.

Nancy Barnes Albert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albert of Pebble Beach, became the bride of Thomas Reed Malcolm at the Carmel Mission Basilica on Saturday. The Reverend Roger Dieudonne read the 4 p.m. service before a group of family members only.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk organza gown, trimmed with appliques of lace and seed pearls, and with an Empire train. A circlet of lace and seed pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of butterfly roses and stephanotis.

The bride's sisters, Jane and Terryl, were her only attendants. They were dressed alike in Empire style gowns of coral silk organza and carried coral roses and stephanotis with similar flowers in their hair.

Donald Malcolm served as best man for his brother. The bridegroom's sister, Mary Malcolm, assisted in the receiving line.

A large reception was held at the Tennis Ranch in Carmel Valley. The wedding party greeted guests on the lawn by a huge flowering magnolia tree. Camellias floated in the pool and pots and hanging baskets of begonias decorated the terrace where there was dancing.

Nancy is a graduate of Santa Catalina School for Girls and Stanford University, where she received her B.A. degree in psychology. She was a Stanford pom-pom girl and one of the campus queens. She spent her junior year at Stanford-in-Italy, and will do graduate work in clinical psychology this fall.

Her husband, son of Mrs. Hulen Callaway of Beverly Hills and the late Thomas Reed, is a graduate of Bellarmine School and the University of California, where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity. He is presently in his third year at Hastings Law School where he is editor of the Law Review. He relinquished his membership in the Bachelors with his marriage.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in the Hawaiian Islands and will live in San Francisco on their return.

Carmel High School Class Of 1950 Held Reunion On Saturday

Graduates of the 1950 Carmel High School class, with their husbands and wives, turned out in goodly numbers for their 15th reunion on Saturday evening at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, where they reminisced during an evening of dinner and dancing.

From greater distances came Judge and Mrs. Ben Pyle (Shirley Elliott) of Carthage, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Don Manley (Joan Daniels), New York, and Christine (Malvido) de Fernandez from Mexico.

KIWANIS MEETING

Carmel Kiwanis Club members met Thursday noon at Pine Inn. Members Howard Byrne, Charles Dawson and Wilton DeMarco gave short reports on their lives so that the rest of the members would know them and their backgrounds better.

Some time was given to arrangements for the Kiwanis Club's rummage sale to be held on October 2 in the Carmel American Legion Hall.

Lee Is Mrs. Claude Long

At home in Mountain View after their honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Padgett Long, the former Nancy Lee Holden Spencer, whose wedding took place on August 15 at All Saints' Episcopal Church. White stock, chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the church for the 1 p.m. ceremony performed by the Reverend David Hill.

The bride, given in marriage by Ernest W. Travis, her step-grandfather, wore a simple white knit dress with a lace mantilla covering her hair. White carnations were fixed on the prayerbook she carried. Her only attendant was Gayla Lee Beauchamp.

Lee, as she is known to her local friends, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Spencer, former Carmelites now residing in Ajijic, Mexico. She is a student at Foothill College, where she is a member of the photography and drama clubs.

Her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Long of Phoenix, Arizona, is employed as an electronics technician in Mountain View and also attends Foothill College, where he is majoring in anthropology.

Valerio Was Surprised

On Saturday evening, Nadya Giusi brought off the difficult feat of surprising an adult with a birthday party—in this case, her husband, Valerio, whose birthday celebration coincided with the premiere of Orson Durand's locally produced color film, "The Long Way Home," in which Valerio is a principal. Guests who watched the screening at the Tantamount Theatre and later met at the Giusi home were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Dedini, Mr. and Mrs. Hans von Richter, producer-director Orson Durand and Mrs. Durand, Mr. and Mrs. William van der Sluis, Mr. and Mrs. John Grissim, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Theroux, Mr. and Mrs. Don Criley and Arthur Davis, another member of the cast.

Marilyn Hurd Married

Saint John's Chapel at Del Monte was the setting Sunday for the wedding of Marilyn Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hurd of Carmel Valley, and Joseph Thomas of Sacramento. The Reverend John T. Ledger read the afternoon service at Saint John's, which was decorated for the occasion with white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Miss Lucy Valpey, Marilyn's great-aunt, selected and played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of Belgian lace fashioned with glove-point sleeves and a Sabrina neckline. A semi-cathedral skirt flowed from a cummerbund at the waistline. Her illusion veil was elbow length with a Dior rose and she carried a cascade of carnations and white roses intertwined with ivy.

Mary Jane Leutzinger of Carmel was Marilyn's maid of honor and her other attendants were Michele Thomas, the bridegroom's sister, and Carole Mehlhaff of Lockeford. They wore identical full-length gowns of coral crepe, styled with cowl draped necklines, and matching Dior nose veils.

Robert Thomas of Sacramento was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were Don Lynch of San Mateo and Gordon Hurd, the bride's brother.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Joseph Thomas, chose a two-piece antique gold suit, with which she wore matching accessories.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Hawaii. When they return, they will make their home at Pullman, Washington, where both will attend Washington State University. The bridegroom will be a graduate student with a teaching assistantship in chemistry and Marilyn has transferred from the University of California at Davis for her junior year at WSU.

The son of Mrs. Joseph Thomas of Sacramento and the late Mr. Thomas, the new benedict is a graduate of U.C. Davis.

At Salzburg Festival

The John Caldwells, who are in Salzburg, Austria, write that it is festival time and they "can't walk down the streets without hearing marvelous voices and instruments in rehearsal and the evening performances are brilliant."

They drove to Vienna to pick up the Henry Trubes, who flew in from Leningrad, and with them "fell in love with the Dolomites, the wonderful Tyrolean countryside of Austria and Northern Italy, also the delightful people."

The Caldwells report that "Italy's fruits were at their peak and we gorged on white peaches fit for the gods." And sunshine greeted them in Salzburg when they returned.

Carmelites In Alaska

For a while earlier this summer, Dawson City, Alaska, looked as if it were an annex to Carmel.

All of them were guests of Jim and Geri Cardwell, who are making their home in Dawson City this summer. Geri is performing in the S.S. Keno musical variety show; she has a unique painting-sketching act that is done to the accompaniment of music and poetry. The act has drawn highly favorable comments from newspapers and radio stations in Northwest Canada and Alaska.

Nancy Larsen came to Dawson via the Alskan Ferry, the White Pass narrow-gauge railroad, and then floated 350 miles down the Yukon on a raft. Ted and Donna Mikhleson came via camper and trailer. John Keefauver's journey was made via automobile, bus, boat, and train.

John will return to Carmel with the Cardwells when the theatre season is over in September.

Tahoe Travelers

Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell and their family have departed for their annual vacation at Lake Tahoe, hoping to find clear skies at the mountain resort where they enjoy relaxing at a summer home maintained by friends there.

Several other Carmelites who visited the Tahoe area this month were driven home by heavy Sierra storms. Rosa Doner waited out the rains at a Fallen Leaf cabin with friends, but her daughter, Tasha, caught a bus to the coast. On the same bus were Melissa Scherman and Suzie Vial who, with Melissa's mother, Mrs. Margaret Scherman, had been staying at a South shore resort. Louis Conlan gave up staying inside his brother's cabin at Echo Lake and drove back to Carmel to find the sun.

Degree From Colorado

A master of music education degree was awarded to Carol Ann Campbell of Carmel at the University of Colorado summer commencement exercises on Saturday.

Rosalie Machado

Requiem Mass was celebrated Tuesday evening at Carmel Mission Basilica for Rosalie Marcelina Machado, member of a pioneer Monterey family, who died in a Salinas Hospital last Friday after a long period of failing health.

The daughter of the late Manuel Tobar and Santa Naredo Tobar, she was born in the old Pacheco adobe, Monterey, in 1912. She was a resident of Carmel from the time of her marriage until two years ago, when she moved to Seaside to make her home with her brother, Laurence Tobar. Her husband, the late David Frank Machado, a member of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department for many years, died in 1961.

Mrs. Machado is survived by another brother, Ralph Tobar of Anchorage, Alaska, and by two sisters, Mrs. Anna Callihan of Del Rey Oaks and Mrs. Frances Chapa Tobar of Seaside; also several nephews and nieces living in this area.

She was a member of the Catholic Daughters Court of Carmel.

The Dorney and Farlinger Mortuary was in charge of funeral arrangements and burial, which took place in Mission Memorial Park, Seaside.

Thousands Watch Spearfishing At State Park Beach

An estimated 2,000 persons were on the beach at the mouth of Carmel River on Sunday for the United States Spearfishing Championships in which skindivers from all over the United States and Canada competed.

Over a ton of rock fish was brought to shore to garner points awarded on the basis of one point per pound. The catch later was donated to the Carmelite Monastery at San Jose Creek.

Terry Lentz of Los Angeles was the men's individual winner with 112 points. The Moby Dicks, an Oakland group, captured the men's team championsip with 277 points. The Oregon Women's Skindiving Council team won in the women's division. No local skindivers qualified for the national finals. All diving was without underwater breathing apparatus.

tion of the AFA gallery premises and operation standards.

Not only the public, but elementary, high school and junior college classes and students are allowed to visit AFA exhibitions, at no cost.

That the AFA gallery is well patronized evidences community interest, Mr. Heller stresses. Such interest is a required condition for obtaining foundation grants for further development. The AFA is desirous of expanding its workshop program by such means, as well as developing its other contributions to the community which, in addition to the gallery and lectures by art authorities, will include the permanent art museum.

If the city council grants the free use of the Sunset space to the AFA, this will be incontrovertible evidence of community interest, Mr. Heller maintains.

But the city council has withheld action on the commission's recommendation pending study and report at its September meeting.

If the city council finds that it cannot allow the AFA to occupy rent-free space at Sunset, this could well be interpreted as an indication that Carmel does not want AFA activities, Mr. Heller suggests.

Other Peninsula communities would like to have this asset. But, at present, AFA plans are to locate all future development, including an art museum, in Carmel.

This question could well be answered by the city council allowing the AFA to occupy, at no cost, two rooms at the Sunset center which, apparently, no other group wants.

Sallie Clark Is A Bride

Standards of delphinium and stock, with pew markers of white gladioli, adorned Carmel Presbyterian Church for the wedding on Sunday of Sallie Abbott Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie G. Clark Jr. of Carmel, and Joel Dean Funderburg of Pacific Grove. The late afternoon service was performed by Chaplain George Markle (USN Ret.).

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of Japanese pearl satin, fashioned with long sleeves and a cathedral train. Her veil of heirloom Duchess lace, had been worn by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Archie G. Clark Sr. of Seattle. Sallie carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids and lily of the valley.

Her sister-in-law and matron of honor, Mrs. Laurance B. Clark of Carmel, was dressed in a full-length Empire style gown in two tones of green. A Dior bow of Dublin green held her circlet veil in place and she carried a nosegay of white orchids and green ribbon.

Her other attendants, wearing similar costumes, were Mrs. David H. Town and two cousins from Oregon, Mrs. John Paul Colvin of Eugene and Mrs. William E. Troy II of Springfield.

David L. Funderburg was his brother's best man, while two other brothers, John and James Funderburg, were ushers. A third usher was Laurance B. Clark, the bride's brother.

Out-of-town guests at the reception held at the Beach Club in Pebble Beach were the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edward Cunningham of Seattle, and Arthur and Douglas Honeyman of Lake Oswego, Oregon, cousins of the bride.

The new Mrs. Funderburg, a graduate of the Catlin-Gabel School in Portland, Oregon, was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at San Jose State College. This summer, she studied politics and diplomacy at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

Joel, the son of Mrs. Paul E. Funderburg of Pacific Grove and the late Mr. Funderburg, is the brother of John, James and Steven Funderburg of Pacific Grove and David Funderburg of Marina. After four years of Naval service, he enrolled at Monterey Peninsula College where he will graduate next winter.

Pam Petersen Is Home

Days and days of looking at the treasures in Madrid's famous El Prado museum were a part of Pamela Petersen's year of study at the University of Madrid sponsored by the University of California. Ever-present governmental censorship became a thing taken for granted, but living with a Spanish family gave her an opportunity to know intimately many facets of life in that country.

In June, Pamela was joined by her brothers, Maynard and Tim Petersen, and together the trio spent the summer touring Europe by auto.

Aboard the student ship which brought them to New York was Deen Rowe, who has been in Europe since July. Tim, Maynard and Deen drove the VW station wagon, in which they toured Europe, across the country, arriving in Carmel Tuesday. Pam flew home from New York last week and, with her brothers will spend the remainder of her vacation at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard C. Petersen. Next month Pam will resume her history studies at U.C. Davis, where Maynard returns as a sophomore, and Tim will enter Monterey Peninsula College.

Broaddus Family Reunion

Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Robert E. Broaddus and four of their children were here this month to occupy their Carmel home for ten days and to visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Broaddus, and his sister, Zeala Broaddus. During their stay, Colonel Broaddus' elder brother, Bernard, came down from Stockton to join the family.

Colonel Broaddus left Carmel six years ago to report as senior medical advisor to Brigadier General Dae Boo Lee, Surgeon Second Republic of Korea Army. In October of 1963, he was selected as medical research analyst for the U.S. Army Combat Support Group of Combat Developments Command at Fort Lee, Virginia, where he served until July, 1965. He is now assigned by the Army Surgeon General's Office for a year's postgraduate study in hospital administration at the Premedical Field Service School, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and Baylor University.

His wife, Carol, is active in the American Red Cross volunteer program and was instrumental in initiating a joint Korean-American volunteer Grey Lady program while in Korea. At Fort Lee, Virginia, Mrs. Broaddus served as chairman of all Red Cross volunteers.

Here with the couple were their children, Julie, Jim, John and Bill, who are enrolled in high school at Fort Sam Houston. Their eldest son, Robert Jr., graduated from a private high school in Seoul, Korea, entered the Army last Spring and is now an instructor in electronics at Fort Devens, Massachusetts.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

LITTLE LYRIC THEATRE

Twenty boys and girls, members of the Little Lyric Theatre of Big Sur, have been working conscientiously and joyously for the past several weeks in a summer workshop devoted to music, drama and allied arts. The culmination of their efforts will be two public performances of "King Arthur" by Purcell and an original musical, written by members of the theatre, entitled "Forward and Backward." Programs will be presented on August 29 at 7:30 p.m. and August 31 at 2:00 p.m. Both programs will be given in the Big Sur Grange Hall.

The Little Lyric Theatre of Big Sur is a non-profit organization with the sole purpose of encouraging and developing the musical talents of children through education and musical production.

This is the second year for the theatre and is the realization of a project long hoped for by its director, Gene Perrine, that of establishing a workshop for children in the Big Sur community. The highly successful program last year, under the direction of Mr. Perrine, and ably assisted by Catherine Bengston, Eve Ross, Marge Johnson and Robert Skiles, combined with the establishment of a foundation grant by a member of the Big Sur area, has assured the continuance of this rich and rewarding project for young people.

THE BLACK ANGEL

The Phoenix Shop, the gifts store that adjoins Nepenthe, has added a piece of sculpture to its exterior which has aroused much interest, not only to visitors at the shop, but also to passersby along Highway One. Installed and anchored in place recently, by 15 of the "most wonderful people in Big Sur," including two brothers, Frank and Walter Trotter, who were the building contractors for the shop, also Hugh Fleenor of Rancho Sierra Mar, is the "Black Angel" a tremendous piece of redwood, which now adorns the rooftop above the entrance to the shop.

The great piece of redwood, partially burned in ages gone by, was found on the Post Ranch by a resident of the ranch, artist Cyril "Buzz" Brown Jr., who told us,

"Immediately I saw that the Black Angel could be formed from the piece. I had wanted to do something like this for a long time and had received the inspiration for it from much reading including works of the Greek author Nikos Kazantzakis, who wrote 'Zorba the Greek', 'The Last Temptation' and other books."

"Buzz" Brown, as he is known in Big Sur, received his formal art education at the University of California at Los Angeles and the Los Angeles County Art Institute, where he devoted most of his attention to the field of painting. In recent years he has created many pieces of wood sculpture.

The "Black Angel" was formed and shaped from the giant redwood section by the use of oil, fire and water, all done under the skilful control of the artist. The skin of the face is of fiberglass. Some of the detail about the face, the toes and the fringe of the robe has been subtly worked with mosaic pieces. The halo is fashioned from an old buggy wheel, found on the Post Ranch, which has been welded and held in place by bronze rods.

FILLED WITH VACATIONISTS

The lodge, motel and campground keepers of the Big Sur area are well aware that this month of August is the peak season for vacationists and travelers. Almost all of the nearly dozen lodging and camping establishments in the immediate Big Sur area report accommodations are filled daily and, most weekends, numbers of people are disappointed to find no vacancies at all. There are more than 170 cottages, lodge and motel units and close to 500 camping and/or trailer and tent spaces, available for the vacationist and the tourist.

HOSPITAL SNACK BAR REOPENED AFTER REMODELING

Remodeling and expansion of Community Hospital's popular snack bar has been completed and it has been reopened.

The snack bar, operated by the Auxiliary of Community Hospital, was closed for a month during refurbishing. It is now open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from noon to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday. It also is open every evening from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m.

Mrs. Luella C. Jackson, auxiliary training chairman, and Mrs. William H. Hohnemann, auxiliary snack bar chairman, said it was remodeled to accommodate more efficiently the increasing number of customers who now total 4,000 a month.

With tall pines as backdrop, the Forest Theater will provide an unusual setting for the Community Theatre's production of "Teahouse of the August Moon," which opens tomorrow evening at 8:30 p.m.

Of equal interest is the cast announced by director Frederick Rider. As the cheerful interpreter Sakini, Frank Wang will be starred. Born in Hong Kong, Mr. Wang studied at the Ballet Theatre's Robert Joffrey School and acted in numerous college productions in Philadelphia. He has danced professionally at the Valley Forge Music Fair in Pennsylvania and with the Canadian road company of "The World of Susie Wong."

The lovely geisha will be Caroline Yamata, who recently appeared as a classic Japanese at the Monterey Oban Festival. Miss Yamata is a graduate of Kobe Girls' College in Japan, where she played both male and female parts, her favorite being that of Jean Valjean in Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables."

Lieutenant Bruce Albert of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School will switch to the Army for the role of Captain Fisby. At Annapolis, Lieutenant Albert was both writer and actor. He was recently seen as Mordred in the USNPG production of "Camelot."

Well known to Peninsula audiences are John Boles and C. Winter Van Horn, who will be seen as Colonel Purdy and Captain McLean. Other featured roles will be played by Kay Brown and Dave Bunten.

Setting for this captivating fable of East and West has been designed by Rick Beck-Meyer, who has constructed a series of colorful and unusual abstracts. Lighting will be supervised by Bill Lewis and costumes designed by Jan Boston and Jean Cahill.

Seven performances have been scheduled for "Teahouse." Two matinee performances are at 2:00 p.m. on the afternoons of August 29 and September 5. Evening performances will be on Saturday and September 3, 4 and 5.

D. MacMillan Kerr

Funeral services for D. MacMillan Kerr, a resident of this community since 1943, were held on Saturday in St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, with Dr. John Ledger officiating, assisted by the Reverend Alfred Seccombe, former rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church. Mr. Kerr died on August 18 in a local hospital following a brief illness.

For many years a member of the board of directors of the Monterey County Symphony Association, Mr. Kerr gained financial support, for the first time, for this organization by personally appealing to the Monterey County Board of Supervisors and successfully repeated this appeal each year he was on the board. His enthusiasm, cheerful encouragement and objective thinking were invaluable assets to the symphony association.

A graduate of Cornell University, where he was a member of Tau Beta Pi honor fraternity, Mr. Kerr was a mining and metallurgical engineer and a consulting engineer in the chemical field. Prior to his retirement, in 1958, to a consultant capacity, he was head of the Kaiser Refractories in the Salinas-Castroville area. He had also been a director of the National Lime Association. Mr. Kerr was a vestryman of All Saints' Episcopal Church and a member of the American Ceramics Society and the Castroville Rotary Club. He was born in Northport, New York, on November 5, 1893.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth Jewell Kerr, three daughters, Mrs. Charlotte Kerr Hartzell of Santa Clara, Mrs. E. E. Young of Rutherford, New Jersey, and Mrs. William Littell of Berkeley; a son, Duncan MacMillan Kerr Jr. of Santa Clara; two sisters, Elizabeth Brush of British Columbia and Jane Kerr Kumeilike of Honolulu; ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial took place in Cementerio El Encinal, Monterey. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Kerr may do so by contributions to the Monterey County Symphony Association.

PIPERS LURE PEOPLE TO PARADE

Skirling bagpipes once again proved a fascination for Carmelites on Sunday. The First Salinas Valley Highlanders, during a parade from the city hall to the Forest Theater, collected a three-blocks-long following.

Conspicuous were children, some in baby carriages, and Carmel dogs joined the fun, too, but in much lesser numbers.

At the city-owned Forest Theater, pipers and drummers gave a free concert on the outdoor stage under the auspices of the Carmel Arts Commission.

Grove Laundry

472 Lighthouse Ave. Established 1900 Pacific Grove

Back in 1912, when this picture was taken in San Jose, our installers worked from trucks like this one. Of course our trucks have changed since then, and so has the phone service they bring you. Although, in 1912, calls still had to be placed through an operator, work had begun on dial equipment. And as phones began to be converted to the dial system, telephone people were already seeking ways to improve and expand dialing. That's why today most Californians can dial not only local calls but many long distance calls as well.

I read recently about a dog that barks to tell his owner, who is hard of hearing, that the phone is ringing. What's more, he barks only when the phone rings twice, the party signal for their calls. Good dog!

If you are hard of hearing, here's some good news. The little wheel in our new VOLUME CONTROL HANDSET can make a big difference in how well you hear on the phone. Just turn the wheel with your thumb and the voice at the other end of the line will immediately sound louder. To find out more about the handset, and aids that help you hear the telephone ring, just contact our business office.

Pacific Telephone has over 47,000,000 miles of wire in service—nearly 30 times the length of Gemini 4's 62 orbits of the earth.

I imagine you've discovered how fast and easy direct distance dialing is, but maybe you've wondered what to do if you should ever dial a wrong number out of town. Here's how to make sure you won't be charged for such a call. Just ask the person who answers for the name of his city. Then dial "0" for Operator and tell her. She'll see that you're not charged for the call.

Samuel Radcliffe

Family services were held Monday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, for Samuel Radcliffe, who died Sunday in a local hospital after a brief illness. A resident of Carmel for the past five years, he was born in Kansas City, Missouri, March 5, 1896, and had lived in California for 45 years.

Prior to his retirement five years ago, Mr. Radcliffe was employed for 33 years as an accountant with the Pacific Telephone Company. He was a Naval veteran of World War I.

He leaves his wife, Caroline M. Radcliffe of Carmel; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Ross of Redding and Mrs. Sidney Horner of Atascadero; a sister, Mrs. Bessie Spaeth of Kansas City, Missouri; a brother, Sanford Ratliff of Twenty-Nine Palms; five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Inurnment took place in El Carmelo Cemetery Urn Garden. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make memorial contributions may do so to First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Carmel.

Gilbert Furness

Private services were held Friday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, for Dr. Gilbert Bird Furness, a Carmel resident for the past five years. Dr. Furness died last Thursday at the home of his daughter, Margaret G. Furness of Carmel, with whom he made his home.

A retired physician, Dr. Furness was born in Ogdensburg, New York, October 24, 1873. After receiving his medical degree from the University of Michigan in 1896, he was associated for a year with the Northern Michigan Hospital at Traverse City before establishing his practice at Mandan, North Dakota, where he and his wife lived for 18 years. The family moved to California in 1915 and, for 40 years, Dr. Furness practiced his profession in Visalia, where he was president of the Tulare County Medical Association and of the Kaweah Hospital. He was a Visalia city councilman for eight years, a member of the charter commission, city health officer and a chamber of commerce director.

A 50-year member of the Masonic Order, he was a past master in Bismarck, North Dakota. In Visalia he was a member of the Knight Templars and the Shrine, the Elks Club and Loyal Order of Moose.

Dr. Furness leaves four daughters, Miss Margaret G. Furness of Carmel, Dorothy Furness Davis of Berkeley, Grace Furness Kyle of Oakland and Marion Furness Kober of Fresno; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. His wife, the former Grace Hamilton, died in 1940.

Inurnment, following a memorial service in Berkeley, will take place in Ogdensburg, New York. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of local services.

TOWN HOUSE PROGRAM

Mrs. Frank Kressen will speak about her association with Mount Holyoke in Madras and of the problems of educating girls and women in India at 3 p.m. on Wednesday at the Carmel Foundation Town House.

The public is invited to hear the guest speaker and to have tea which will be served at 4 p.m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science services Sunday will underscore the need for people today to demonstrate the power and practicality of Christ Jesus' teachings.

Passages from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook on "Christ Jesus" will include his promise as recorded by the Apostle John: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also" (John 14:12).

Related readings will contain the following lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself,—when he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing power of the divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind . . . The purpose of his (Jesus') great life-work extends through time and includes universal humanity" (pp. 55, 328).

Art News . . .

On the cover of a new edition of "Robinson Jeffers Selected Poems" is a reproduction of a perceptive charcoal drawing of the late poet by Sam Colburn. The artist, a Carmel resident for many years, is well known for his oils and watercolors as well as his drawings and murals. His last one-man show was exhibited at a New York gallery, and he is represented in numerous private collections. He is currently living in the San Jose area but visits Carmel frequently.

The paperback volume, published by the Vintage Book division of Random House, includes selections from Jeffers' major works.

Paintings by Richard Hamilton, who embarked on his new career a little over a year ago and is self-taught, were exhibited last weekend at Cobb's Cafe in Carmel Valley. The artist is represented at Highlands Inn and in several private collections and his work has been shown in Reno, Virginia City, Lake Tahoe and Palm Springs.

Steve Crouch of Carmel garnered first award in the human interest category of the professional photography division at the Monterey County Fair with a print entitled "The Long Uphill Road." He also won first and second awards in the scenic category with "Composition in Stone and Water" and "Redwood Forest," respectively.

In the amateur division, "Voter 1975" won a first award for Regina Hicks of Carmel in the human interest category.

Today through Sunday, 38 oil paintings, each an historical portrayal of the founding and development of the Mission era of California, will be displayed in the main patio of Carmel Mission Basilica. Twenty-three missions, four presidio-pueblos, an asistencia, an Indian rancheria and a Spanish land grant are among the subjects portryed. The exhibit is a "visual history" according to John Phillip Van Haag of the California Restoration Societies. The exhibit will begin a three-year tour of the state in September.

Marcia McGinnis of Carmel took the greatest number of awards, seven, in the crafts section of the Monterey County Fair. Other Carmel residents who won awards were Charles M. Daniels and Alice Robertson, three awards each; Howell Armour, Beth Garcia, Florence F. Clayton and Carol Weston, two each; Joan W. Donohue, Milton and Rima Waldman, C. Jon Shoemaker, William H. Gorham, Doris Ormsby, Harry Conley Jr; William L. Worthley, Jerry and Rachel Church, Louise Pollock, Clara Martinie, Esther Krasner, Grant Pollock, Adrienne B. Engle, Josephine Bow, Olivia Heider and Gyla Smith, each one award.

The de Young Museum in San Francisco will present "The San Francisco Collector," an exhibition of 19th and 20th century painting and sculpture from Bay Area private collections from September 21-October 17.

Memorial Services For Daughter Of State Senator Farr

Memorial services will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. in All Saints Episcopal Church for Nancy Haskins Farr, 17-year-old daughter of State Senator Fredrick Sharon Farr and the late Mrs. Farr, who died on January 31. The death of Nancy, loved and admired by all who knew her, occurred Monday in Monteria, Colombia, as the result of a horseback riding accident.

After traveling with family friends in Europe this summer, she had joined her father and sister, Francesca, in Medellin, Colombia, where they were visiting her brother, Sam, a Peace Corps volunteer.

Senator Farr, Francesca and Sam have returned to Carmel.

Born in San Francisco on January 4, 1948, Nancy grew up in Carmel, attending Carmel River and Sunset schools, and would have entered her senior year at Santa Catalina School for Girls this Fall.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Miss Farr may do so to the Nancy Haskins Farr Memorial Scholarship Fund, Santa Catalina School for Girls, Monterey.

CAT BURGLAR HERE AGAIN

Apparently after operating in San Luis Obispo, according to police reports from that city, the cat burglar who, Carmel police presume, struck here two weeks ago, returned on Tuesday night and for the second time took money from guests at the Jade Tree Inn.

The thief entered three rooms at the Junipero Street motel, gaining access to each through sliding glass doors which were left open and led off a balcony. Reported to the Carmel police department by Fred Leiberman of New York City was the loss of $350 and jewelry valued at $1,000; by Joan Lang of San Mateo the loss of $250; and by Terry Gold of Riverside, $15. The burglar operated in a similar manner at the Jade Tree on August 13 and the same evening at other Carmel motels; the next night in Pacific Grove hostelries.

Mike Noon Show Next Wednesday

On Wednesday at 8:30 p.m., Penoyer-Fischer will present popular Mike Noon in a two-hour show, "Noon at 8:30," at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. Mike's program will include some old and many new songs, most of them original, delivered with the mixture of sophistication and homespun humor which has endeared him to his audiences.

Tickets, at $2 each, may be purchased at the door the night of the show, or may be reserved by phoning 624-5645 or 624-1326.

Those attending the Wednesday evening program are invited to a no-host party at the "Top of El Matador" after the show.

GUEST PREACHER SUNDAY AT COMMUNITY CHURCH

Dr. Paul K. Shelford, executive director of the Northern California Nevada Council of Churches, will be the guest preacher on Sunday at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula. The congregation meets in the Carmel River School at 11 a.m. Dr. Shelford has served in his present position since 1958 and the council serves as the major organization for cooperation between 22 Protestant and Orthodox communions in such areas as missions, radio and television, architecture, week-day Christian education, refugee replacement and interdenominational conferences.

At 9:45 a.m., the Adult Christian Seminar, also meeting in the school, will study the work of the composers of the early Moravian Church in this country and will listen to recordings of their hymns. The discussion will be led by Charles A. Herschleb.

OVER 22 MILLION PEOPLE

Will live within a short day's drive of the Carmel coastal area. In 2000 A.D.? No, sir! In 1980, which is just 15 years around the corner. Better stake your claim while you can still buy:

1. A WHOLE ACRE OF FOREST PRIMEVAL with a good house and a stream and a mountain with an ocean view from the top and a good well for only $17,400, and just 12 miles from Carmel.
2. A CLIFFHANGERS 5 acre building site for $25,000 and/or a fine modern home in the same Hurricane Pt. location, right on the sea, for $39,500.
3. WOODED, GRASSY KNOLL of 5 acres with splendid panoramic outlook over the redwoods of the Big Sur River Valley, and only $18,750.
4. HIGH IN THE HIGHLANDS with spectacular ocean view, a real mountain-goat-type lot for that hillside house you clipped that time from your favorite home magazine. It's only $11,500.
5. SWIMMING POOL and a modern redwood home with a guest cottage on some four acres near Big Sur State Park, (and it's zoned R-3).
6. LOOKING FORWARD TO DOING BUSINESS WITH THOSE 22,300,000 souls? We can offer the best business proposition on the Sur Coast with a cash down payment of $65,000.

CARMEL'S BEST BUYS

IT IS HARD TO FIND a better quality home than this, for $45,000, considering location, view, and walking distance to downtown Carmel. This 2 bedroom 2 bath home, plus a den, located near Santa Lucia on Monte Verde, is new, and excellent terms can be arranged.

ANOTHER GOOD BUY, is a brand new home on the quiet little street of Palou near 2nd. This quality home has everything necessary for comfortable living. It has 2 bedrooms and 2 baths, a full dining room, walnut paneling in the living room, and wall to wall carpeting throughout. The price is only $42,500, and can be seen anytime, we have the key.

THE ONLY LOT we know of at the price of $9,000, and worth more. It is located in Mission Fields.

FOR $30,000 we will more than compare this 3 bedroom two bath home located at First and Guadalupe, with anything in Carmel at the same price.

JUST AN ORDINARY 40 x 100 lot in Carmel, but the location makes it worth the asking price of $14,500.00.

IF IT IS CLOSE to downtown Carmel (two blocks) that you want to be, we can show you a 3 bedroom 2 bath home, with a 2 car garage for only $32,500. No steep hills to climb.

THE LAST LOT sold in a comparable area to this one, was $20,000. We are offering this lot (2 blocks from Ocean Avenue) for $15,000. Terms.

NEAR THE MISSION on Dolores St. Three bedrooms, three baths and studio only a year old. A most unusual and beautiful home on a large lot with some Ocean view and loaded with charm. $57,500.

FOR SALE

1. We haven't sold that "brown sparrow" so neatly perched on level lot south of Ocean Ave. Fireplace, beamed ceiling. Two bedrooms, one of which opens on the sunniest patio one could imagine; SOLD a barbecue pit, too. t home for retired couple who have dreamed of living simply and basking in the sun. Everything in perfect condition. The Buyer will not need to know anything about hammers, saws or paint brushes! Only $26,850 and a bargain at that price.
2. Did you love "going to see Grandma" when she lived in a quaint Victorian house with peaked roof and bedrooms tucked away under the eaves upstairs? And that attic full of such exciting things to amuse small boys and girls? Let us show you the one remaining in Carmel. Grandma doesn't live there anymore because the open red-wood stairway is too steep but it should be a dream come true for a younger person or couple with no small children to tumble down the stairs. Listed at $31,950 and the owner might consider a reasonable offer.
3. The little brown sparrow has been sold, but 66 Oliver Road, Mission Fields still is available for the Buyer needing three bedrooms, two baths, family room, fenced yard and modern G.E. Kitchen. FHA loan commitment of $23,500 at 5¼% 30 yrs. or, excellent conventional financing can be arranged. For the man with the necessary down payment, immediate occupancy is possible. Listed at $27,500 but don't be afraid to make a reasonable offer. The Major has been assigned elsewhere for long term of duty and is anxious to sell. Broker cooperation invited.

Party On Dunes Tomorrow For Children In Reading Program

Participants of the Beachcomber Club, summer reading program of the Harrison Memorial Library, will gather tomorrow for appropriate festivities. Regardless of the weather, all those enrolled, and invited members, will meet at 10 a.m. at the foot of Ocean Avenue on the sand dunes. The members will have the shells they have earned, identified and displayed in some original fashion, ready to compare with the others . . . and possibly to boast!

Each Beachcomber had the possibility of earning four small shells for the first four books reported on, and two larger ones that took two books to earn. These each member chose from a collection of indigenous and foreign specimens. If a tenth book were completed, the Beachcomber was eligible for a "special shell," the quality of which was decided by the children's librarian, Mrs. Dorothy Colvin. The excellence of choice of books on the individual's own reading and age level, plus the quality and neatness of the book reports, were taken into consideration.

Most appropriately, Elizabeth Clemons, author of "Shells Are Where You Find Them" and "Tide Pools and Beaches" will be a special guest at the party.

Special recognition will be given those who completed ten books. It is estimated that this will be 60 to 75 readers. About 125 boys and girls from second grade through eighth grade participated.

Refreshments will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. Violet Weisiger, assistant in the children's room, Mrs. Colvin and junior hostesses Deniz Cetin, Susan Hooper, Laura Sherman and Karen Wynkoop.

Sunset Commissioners Disagree In Attempt To Set Cultural Center Use

Commission emphasizing the need for the commission to state the uses of the Sunset Center it considers desirable and acceptable in accordance with the above statements.

Monday evening a list of possible uses, prepared by Admiral Fisher, was scrutinized. Commissioners were in disagreement over some. These included political meetings, convention lectures, food, drink, postcard and souvenir concessions, meetings of the PTA, Boy and Girl Scouts, Red Cross and similar organizations.

Accord was reached on musical and theatrical, including vaudeville, presentations, certain motion pictures, community and civic activities, an art museum, offices for cultural organizations, school district approved student activities, Youth Center shows, nonprofit arts and craft workshops and recreational facilities for children, if there is enough space on the site.

All commissioners agreed that parking was a desirable and acceptable use of the existing Sunset paved playgrounds in front of the auditorium and on the south level of the site. Development of the unpaved baseball field at the north end of the property into a parking lot was left undecided until a joint committee of the city council and Sunset and planning commissions have studied and reported on any future parking facilities at Sunset. Chairman Peter Dyer appointed Admiral Fisher and Dr. James Gilman as the Sunset commissioners who will serve with this group, if the council approves reactivation of the ad hoc committtee on parking, with the addition of the Sunset Commissioners. Dr. Gilman and Commissioner Ted Fehring suggested the reactivation in a report which was adopted by the commission Monday night.

The commission's secretary, City Administrator Hugh Bayless, was asked to prepare a revised list of possible desirable and acceptable uses of the Sunset property, based on Monday night's discussion, for further study at the next meeting of the Sunset Commission.

Steps To Remedy Fire, Panic Hazards At Sunset Taken

Steps to remedy existing fire and panic hazards at Sunset Center were taken Monday night by the Sunset Commission. The fire safety report presented in April to the commission by Robert E. Smith, former Carmel fire chief, indicated that deteriorated electrical wirtng and heating system steam pipes, old and without insulation, were major items to be remedied. In the meantime, the municipal cultural and community center is being operated at "a calculated risk."

Commissioner Dr. James Gilman told other commissioners that should a disaster occur because of either of these hazards, the position of the city would be "untenable." He insisted that further information on the two matters must be undertaken "to protect the city council and the people of Carmel."

Dr. Gilman and Commissioner Ted Fehring, in a report, advocated having the fire chief and building inspector inspect the Sunset premises and report to the commission on fire safety, panic hazards, structural defects, health and public welfare responsibilities of the city in operating the Sunset facility.

They also recommended that the report outline in detail (a) which conditions are of immediate concern and seriousness and should be remedied at once; (b) those areas of deficiency, or omission, which, while important, are of such a nature that remedial measures may safely be deferred; (c) to the degree it is possible, an estimate of cost for each point of recommendation.

Dr. Gilman stated that inconsistencies between the written and verbal reports presented to the commission by Mr. Smith existed. He wanted to have further information. Commissioner James Pruitt was of the same mind.

"I don't agree with the Smith report," he said and pointed out that the sprinkler system installed by the school district, before the city bought the Sunset property, should "wipe out" many state fire and safety code requirements.

The commission adopted the Gilman-Fehring report and referred the inspection of the premises to the fire chief and building inspector.

We Miss You, Pop!

Cecil "Pop" Smith wants his friends to know that he misses them all while he is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ludwig Kaftan, in Los Angeles. He has been there for a month and expects to stay for a while longer.

Mrs. Kaftan says that, if any of Pop's friends are in Los Angeles, will they please telephone and come to see him. She also says that, if anyone wishes to write Pop, the address is 4087 Punta Alta Drive, Los Angeles.

As for all of us in Carmel, we miss you, Pop! The city doesn't seem the same without your cheery greetings to us all.
